

186

2024

Study Title

Assessment of Transfusion Use in Patients with Anemia

Study Description

The study is a multi-center retrospective medical record chart review study of inpatients who were anemic at their first hemoglobin measurement of a hospital admission. Our objectives are to determine if there is an association between patient demographic race and the transfusion of red blood cells in several patient populations admitted to hospitals in different countries.

Study Status

Active

Publication Number

Teams

CTS

Study Leaders

Campbell-Lee, Delaney
