

193

2025

Study Title

Red blood cell transfusion in patients with sickle cell disease and hyperhemolysis syndrome: a survey of international practices

Study Description

This is an international survey study to understand the frequency and practices surrounding red blood cell (RBC) transfusion for patients with sickle cell disease (SCD) after diagnosis of hyperhemolysis syndrome (HHS), and whether these patients are able to receive curative cell and gene therapy products and other therapies.

Study Status

Active

Publication Number

Teams

CTS

Study Leaders

Campbell-Lee, Lu
